

ENVIRONMENTAL ENGINEER/SCIENTIST

Cooperstown Environmental LLC is seeking to fill an environmental engineer/scientist position in our Andover, MA office to assist the firm in servicing existing clients and participate in the firm's continued growth.

The job responsibilities will include a variety of field and office activities. Site investigations and remediation projects involving petroleum, metals, and solvents, exploration and construction monitoring and observation, and treatment system operations and monitoring make up the bulk of the field activities. Office tasks include report preparations, engineering studies and data analysis, cost estimates, preparation of plans and specifications for public bids, contractor procurement, and other tasks integral to completing consulting assignments for our clients. The majority of our workload currently comprises Massachusetts Contingency Plan (MCP) related projects in eastern Massachusetts.

The ideal candidate meets the following criteria:

- A BS degree in civil or environmental engineering or related engineering or scientific discipline (advanced degree a bonus)
- 1-4 years of relevant work experience
- Demonstrated strong writing and communications skills
- Ability to work in a team environment
- The ability to perform physical field activity including lifting and carrying equipment
- Excellent computer abilities; AutoCAD/GIS experience is a plus
- 40-hour OSHA HAZWOPER and familiarity with the MCP is helpful but not required
- A desire to grow with our firm

Cooperstown Environmental LLC was founded in 2004 and has experienced continued growth over the past six years leading to our need for additional staff.
